FEEL PINCH OF STEEL STRIKE

Five Grimsby Factories Already Running Short Of Steel Supplies — Basket Plants Pool Their Wire — Fruit Industry Faces Terrific Loss If Containers Not Obtainable — Two Weeks Production The Limit.

Directly and indirectly the steel strike, now in its second week, is already having an effect upon Grimsby manufacturing plants. Up to date no lay-off of men has occurred, but if the strike is not settled very quickly that situation is bound to happen in local plants. At least five factories in Grimsby are already feeling the pinch.

All three basket factories are operating on the narrow edge owing to the scarcity of steel wire for their basket making machines. These baskets all being stapled together with wire.

All factories between Windsor and the Niagara river whose material purchases and basket sales are handled through the Canadian Package Sales Co., have pooled their wire supply. At the very best this supply in all factories will be exhausted within two weeks. That means that the production of fruit containers will cease, which will

Processed Fruits Of High Standard

Canadian Method Of Grading Canned Products Is One Of The Very Best—Public Protected.

Canada has one of the best grading methods of canned products, said H. C. Aitken, Food Technologist, Horticultural Division, Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in the course of a recent address on fruit and vegetable canning. There are four quality grades — Fancy, Choice, Standard, and Sub-standard—in canned fruits and vegetables in Canada and the grade must be shown on the cans of the products processed in factories under government permit. The grades are determined on each manufacturer's pack throughout the Dominion by inspectors who decide the grade according to regulations under the Meat and Canned Foods Act.

The highest grade is Fancy; Choice, second; and Standard, third. Sub-standard refers to products which are fit for food, but are below Standard quality and cannot be sold through retail outlets.

Weed Inspectors Hold Conference

The problem of weed control throughout Lincoln County was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of county officials with the weed inspectors in the county building in St. Catharines on Monday.

Under chairmanship of Deputy-Reeve J. Douglas Taylor of Louth township the members of the agricultural sub-committee of the Lincoln County council discussed mutual problems with County Weed Inspector Norman Billyard and the

Fruit Truckers Must Be Licensed

Under regulations which came into effect on July 1, no trucker is permitted to transport fruit or vegetables upon a highway in Ontario without first having obtained a license, application for which must be made in writing to the Minister of Agriculture. Annual fee for such license is One Dollar.

Passing of this regulation which makes all truckers subject to provisions of the provincial farm products grades and sales act as well

Here's A Tip For County Council

(Hamilton Spectator)
Something new has been added to Wentworth County Council sessions.

Before the July meeting this week, councillors who had proposals to make would write them out and lumber or scamper—depending on their height and girth—toward the Warden's chair.

Now and in the future, however, the papers are taken from the members and given to Warden Robert Johnston on behalf of the

CAPACITY OF HOSPITAL OVER TAXED ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS

$268,787 Must Be Raised By County

Grimsby's Portion $17,259—Township Pays $24,251—Beamsville $8,280—Chest Of Silver Presented To Asst.-Clerk.

At the close of the July sessions of the Lincoln County Council last Tuesday afternoon, a bylaw was passed to raise the sum of $268,787 from the various towns, villages and townships for county purposes this year. Passing of the bylaw completed the month's business in one day for the council.

In order to raise the sum noted in the bylaw for the county this year the following levies are to be made on the municipalities of Lincoln: Niagara-on-the-Lake, $712.43; Merriton, $2,977.10; Grimsby, $17,259.88; Port Dalhousie, $9,726.20; Beamsville, $8,280.86; Niagara Twp., $33,416.49; Grantham, $37,104.04; Louth, $32,574.38; Clinton, $30,756.03; North Grimsby, $24,251.50; South Grimsby, $10,357.07; Gainsboro, $19,189.04; Caistor, $12,181.88.

Accepting the resignation of Miss Marie Killins, assistant-clerk, who is leaving the staff of the county to be married shortly, Warden Robert Johnston on behalf of the

Will Open New Tennis Courts

Mel Johnson, of Johnson's Hardware, is to be congratulated upon his enterprise and public spirit. He is going to fill a long felt want in Grimsby, particularly for the younger generation.

Last Spring he purchased the old Grimsby Club property. For a number of years gone by, the large block of land behind the Main St. building was one of the finest bowling greens in Ontario. During the war these greens fell into disuse. Now Mel is putting one half of the original playing area into shape for bowling again, but the greens will not be ready for use this year.

The other half of the old greens have been transformed into two fine official size tennis courts and these courts will be open for public use about the latter half of next week. His idea with the courts being to give the younger generation a spot for fun and relaxation.

He is to be commended upon his good work along this line.

During Month of June 88 Patients Treated — 35 X-Ray Examinations Made — Average of All Beds Occupied Was 71 Per Cent — Several Patients From Outside Points — In This Land Of "Milk And Honey" Institution Is Compelled to Pay Top Prices For Fruit And Vegetables, How Come?

The end of the first six months of operation of the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital finds the institution getting well settled down to its regular task.

After the opening in January there was still much to be done in the task of completing the equipment, and building up the confidence of the public. One problem after the other has been ironed out, not without plenty of effort on the part of administration and staff.

The following report of Miss Douglas MacRobbie for the month of June gives some idea of what is being done:-

From the above it will be noted that all Departments including Surgery, Obstetrics and Medicine are now in full use. At times the Hospital has been taxed to over capacity, then things will be quiet for a while. However, for June the average of all beds occupied was 71%.

Leading Surgeons and Consultants from Hamilton and other Medical centres, state that they are pleased to come down, the layout is good, results are splendid and the after care and attention is such as to produce good results.

Our local people who have had occasion to use the Hospital are most pleased with the service, which is both convenient for the patient and family, to say nothing of saving in time and expense in having to travel to outside points.

Every season seems to bring its crop of troubles, including people falling out of cherry trees, resulting in broken arms, legs, etc. During the past month 35 X-Ray examinations were made of such cases.

The more recent addition of Awnings by the Women's Institute of Abingdon, has done much to improve the appearance of the building and add comfort to the patients.

For those who have to struggle with the ever increasing costs of doing things, their lot is not without problems. Believe it or not in this Garden of Canada, top prices are being paid by the Hospital for fruit and vegetables, both for immediate consumption and cold storage. Miss MacRobbie states she has 272 quart containers still to fill for storage. If she had some berries, she could put away berries and cherries if she had the cherries.

Rural Mail Route Serving West End

On Friday last the new rural mail route in the west end of North Grimsby, below the mountain, was brought into being. Mr. Robert Forsythe, the courier, is now making his daily trips over this route.

At the present time there are 52 families who have their mail boxes in place and are receiving mail. This number is only about one-half the number of householders that live along the route but no mail is delivered where mail boxes have not been erected. There are still several boxes at the Post Office for householders to call for.

Until such time as Mr. Forsythe can secure a car or light truck he is making his daily trip with a horse and buggy.

Beverage Room Hours Changed

The Liquor Authority Control Board of Ontario have issued a new set of hours for the operation of beverage rooms, which came into effect on Tuesday.

Henceforth beverage rooms will be open from 11:30 to 2 p.m.; 4 until 6:30 p.m.; 8 until 10 p.m., except on Saturdays and public holidays when the afternoon closing period shall not apply. The hours of sale must also be observed in dining rooms that serve beer and wine therein.

Each authority holder MUST open his beverage room on Tuesday and Thursday nights at 8 p.m., and must so arrange his supply of beer to remain open on such two evenings for at least one hour.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THE COMMON COLD

The Financial Post, in all its dignity says, "There's a great day coming—when doctors are going to be able to do something about the common cold."

Doctors have been doing something about the common cold, in and around Grimsby for over a century. That is if the people would do what the doctors told them.

But the general public, once a doctor gives them some good advice, and doesn't charge...out of them for it, they disregard it. Then when something happens, he's a quack.

I can go back in my memory to the day when the late Dr. Alway and the late Dr. Alexander, and the late Dr. Millward, took care of the wants of the people of this Fruit Belt, and they did not have automobiles either. The people also were more responsive to the suggestions of the doctors.

Our present day "roller-coaster" people do not pay any more attention to a doctor than if he was a fence post sticking up in the Sahara Desert until something happens, then it is "Doc Jimmy," "Doc Frank," "Doc Ben, save me." And they have no fighting spirit left to go with it.

How the doctors of Grimsby have ever carried on the past six years, in the face of the helplessness of the people themselves, is beyond the comprehension of me or anybody else. Simply because they never do what their doctor tells them and they never pay him either.

SEE YON BIG BASS DRUMMER A-BRANISHING OF HIS STICKS

Here comes the Band!

Never mind the Band!—here comes the Drummer!

No doubt there are great personages in the procession, and the finest band may head the marchers; but the drummer dominates the band. And watch the fierce brandishing of his drumsticks!

Has anyone ever discovered why he does that—or who started it?

There doesn't seem any good reason why he should belabor the east side of his drum with an Occidental weapon; but that appears to be called for by the regulations.

Who writes the score for the Drummer—if there is such a thing? It must be a weird document that indicates clearly the wild gyrations of a pair of drumsticks. Perhaps it is a diagram!

Anyway, here comes the Drummer! The rest of the procession may be somewhere in the rear—but who cares?

He struts out alone. Nobody walks beside an accomplished drummer. It isn't safe! He is the embodiment of physical energy—not the poetry of motion, but the music of action. And a fine perspiration shows that he is just human, and is feeling the strain.

But, again: Why does he act that way? Perhaps for the same reason that so many have the "flourish" habit that makes their writing illegible!

It may be well to leave it at that.

"CURING" PARTNER'S FAULTS

If your wife eats crackers in bed, or if your husband buries his head behind a newspaper at the breakfast table, there's a way of ending the difficulty, it appears.

Marital troubles have formed the subject for a series of microphone interviews in the United States. Now someone has selected from among those presented the most unusual solutions to family troubles.

For instance, one husband objected because his wife tossed and turned in her sleep. He tied a set of cowbells to the springs—that woke her up; she had to keep still to sleep. The husband forgot to say whether it woke him up, too!

Feeding pets at the dinner table created a problem in another family. The husband, who didn't like the idea of the choice cuts of meat being thrown to the dog, set an extra place at the table.

"Company?" his wife asked. The husband paraded the dog into the chair, saying, "No, just the usual family group." It worked.

Many are the wives who have been pestered by a husband coming into the kitchen to see what's cooking for dinner. One wife put a jumping-jack inside a pot on the stove and when her husband opened it to see what was inside, he got the surprise of his life. It cured him—for a week.

A wife who ate crackers in bed got the hint when her husband took the vacuum cleaner to bed with him. A husband who was tired of his wife talking almost incessantly rigged up a microphone attachment to the radio, turned up the volume, and shouted "shut up!" She was speechless for ten minutes.

Another wife found that if she took her knitting and made stitches in time to her husband's "bawling out," it made him laugh. Another husband was bothered because his wife ate onions almost continually. He went to bed wearing a gas mask. It worked.

One woman did not like her husband to bury his nose in a newspaper at the breakfast table. She arose early one day, cut a big hole in the middle of it so that when he lifted it up he looked right at her. Her husband got the idea.

Or if your husband is forgetful, try a little poetry on him as one wife did:

"You don't forget to go to bed,
"So don't forget to bring the bread."

"THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC"

(By "Herb", in Dunnville Chronicle)

One thing that impressed me more than anything else, perhaps, in the Centennial parade in Hamilton was the fact that in the floats of the New Canadians music played a very important part. Native songs, played on native instruments and sung by these New Canadians in native dress all helped to make up a picturesque float, but what appealed to me more than the picturesque was the fact that these people could still sing after the tribulations of the six years between 1929 and 1946. For these people, the dress of their overseas homeland brought back poignant memories of countries desolated by a ruthless enemy; of families parted and of homes destroyed, and yet they could still sing.

Nor was this done purely for "atmosphere" or effect. I was talking to a lad just returned a few months ago from overseas, and he told me something I already knew from experience back in 1917-1918—that no small part of the defeat of the German invaders was the fact that in spite of everything that had happened, these people could still sing the songs of their countries—that their's was a spirit that could not be conquered, even though their country did collapse around them.

They could sing among the ruins of their homes; they could sing on death marches into Germany; they could sing in concentration camps, and could still sing while they faced a firing party. Music was their life, and they sang no matter what happened. This was something the stolid Nazi could not—and never will—understand. It was a vibrant courage and fortitude coming out in music—it was the spirit that will not admit defeat except for the oppressor—it was the "swan song" of despotism.

And so these people sang as their floats passed by in review. Back home in Czechoslovakia; Poland; Hungary; and in a dozen other countries arising slowly from the debris of war, the people also sing—this was a song of victory and triumph—as they build up new homes to replace the old; a new freedom from fear built up from the defeat of the Nazi menace and a new determination to resist with all their old time stubbornness any form of dictatorship or menace from without their own boundaries, no matter what name it may parade its despotism under.

HURRAY FOR THE PICNIC

The Canadian people have a strong liking for picnics. Food seems to taste better, at least to many of the women folks, when eaten in some pleasant spot, particularly if it has a nice water or mountain view. The appetite is stimulated by the outdoor life.

Many women find the picnic a pleasant variation from the monotony of the ordinary household routine. So they make their sandwiches with enthusiasm, they fix their hard boiled eggs and fill their thermos bottles with hot drinks, and depart for the picnic spot with gladness.

It is a very common sight to see some motoring party eating their picnic meal by the side of the road. The bright air and the pleasant surroundings inspire enthusiasm, and laughter and joking fill the air with happy life. One can be sure that all are having a good time.

TRIMMING THE HAT

The British sailor has, it appears, a strong disposition to wear his hat on the back of his head—a tendency regarded with so much disfavor by the Admiralty that it has introduced an oval hat which, it is claimed, makes the feat practically impossible. It is, of course, obvious that if the British tar is to measure up to Gilbert's famous conception of him, if

His nose should point and his lip should curl,
His cheeks should flame and his brow should furl,
His bosom should heave and his heart should glow,
And his flat be ever ready for a knockdown blow,

he is bound to spoil the effect if he wears his hat like a halo.

Nevertheless, one can sympathize with this desire to carry the hat aft. Even those whose nautical experience is limited to a "pull round the pier" will know how tightly the hat must be affixed for a life on the ocean wave.

An employee who has the interest of his employer at heart doesn't have to carry a rabbit's foot for luck.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

For a great many years Grimsby had as a resident, after he had served his pastorate in the local Methodist church, the late Rev. James Goodwin. The "Rev. James" had raised a large family and among them was a daughter who married Mr. W. T. Goff. In the spring of 1901 Mr. Goff came to Grimsby on a visit and stayed long enough in our midst to gather material, pictures, etc. and edit an illustrated booklet of this district. From this book, now 45 years old, I will commence this week a descriptive writeup of Grimsby Park from the days of its inception. According to this writeup Grimsby Park, but not under that name, came into being in 1859, although it appears that a meeting of temperance advocates had met on this same spot as early as 1846, so that so far as records go, Grimsby Park really came into existence in 1846, although there was a lapse of 13 years before active movement took place again. I am going to reprint for your edification, Mr. Goff's story of this park in its entirety, as I believe it is the most authentic record of this well-known place in existence, and I might add that it is a far better written story than I could grind out. This story will probably run through three or four editions of this column and through it you will find many familiar names of families that have passed entirely out of the picture in this part of the world and others whose descendants are still prominent in the social and business life of the district. So here goes. From now on your literary director is Mr. W. T. Goff. Take a bow.

More than half a century ago the grounds now included in the bounds of Grimsby Park were recognized as being admirably well adapted for the assembling of a great multitude of people. As early as 1846, thirteen years before the first camp meeting, a mammoth temperance meeting was held on the bank of Lake Ontario, near the present Lake View House. This temperance meeting was called a "soiree," and there were long tables bounteously spread at which the two thousand people present feasted together. They were subsequently entertained by speeches from eloquent men who graced the platform, two of whom belonged to the famous Ryerson family. They were Egerton, who afterwards became Chief Superintendent of Education, and the founder of the public school system of Ontario, and the other was William, the orator of the family, who on this occasion delivered a masterful address on the subject of temperance. The meeting was a great success.

Grimsby Park is one of the few survivals of the old-fashioned camp meetings which were so much in vogue in the early part of the 19th century. The camp meeting seems to have been a prominent feature of the early religious life of Canada. Long before there were towns or villages, the scattered settlers were wont to gather in great numbers for a week or ten days together in the tented grove. The little log houses were miles apart, men and women were engaged in a hand to hand struggle for existence; what wonder was it that sometimes they seemed to forget their early training and grow cold and indifferent toward religious concerns. Children were born, and sometimes well grown, in some localities, before they had ever heard a sermon or seen a church. The ubiquitous Methodist itinerant preachers hunted out these lost sheep in the wilderness, and brought to them the comforts of the gospel. Travelling on horseback, in all kinds of weather, over the length and breadth of immense circuits, these itinerant preachers, as poor, as hardy, as brave as their parishioners, looked forward to the camp meeting as the one great means whereby their labors should be crowned with success.

Remember this story was written in 1901, not 1946, so don't get your facts and dates mixed.

THE OLD HOME PAPER

It's like a smiling friendly face,
It's like a voice you long have known;
You see it in some distant place
And rush to claim it for your own.

The paper from your old home town
Has bridged the long and dreary miles
And with it you can settle down
Among familiar tears and smiles.

It speaks for every friend you know,
It tells of scenes you yearn to see,
It brings back joys of long ago,
And tells of joys that are to be.

And as you run its columns o'er
Your yester years come trooping back,
You fancy you're at home once more
And golden seem the letters black.

Its speech is one you understand,
It tells of griefs that you can share,
It brings you in that foreign land,
Glad messages to banish care.

There among scenes and faces strange,
The old-home paper seems to be
A faithful friend that doesn't change,
A friend that you are glad to see.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

CASEY AT THE BAT

The outlook was not brilliant for the Mudville nine that day:
The score stood two to four, with but an inning left to play.
So, when Cooney died at second, and Burrows did the same,
A pallor wreathed the features of the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go, leaving there the rest,
With that hope that springs eternal within the human breast,
For they thought, "if only Casey could get a whack at that,"
They'd put up even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, and likewise so did Blake,
And the former was a puddin', and the latter was a fake.
So on that stricken multitude a deathlike silence sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a "single," to the wonderment of all,
And the much-despised Blakey "tore the cover off the ball."
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Blakey safe at second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from a gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It rumbled in the mountain-tops, it rattled in the dell;
It struck upon the hillside and rebounded on the flat;
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner, as he stepped into his place;
There was pride in Casey's bearing, and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Then thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt;
Then while the lanky pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather-covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there.
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped—
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of storm waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted some one in the stand,
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised a hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone;
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signalled to Sir Timothy, once more the spheroid flew;
But Casey still ignored it, and the umpire said, "Strike two."

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and echo answered
"Fraud!"

But one scornful look from Casey and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lip, his teeth are clenched in hate;
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate.
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh, somewhere in this favoured land the sun is shining bright;
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout;
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

The Policeman

Here are some musings about a Policeman's life as gleaned from the Canadian Police Gazette:

If he is neat, he is conceited; if he's careless, he's a bum; if he's pleasant, he's a flirt; if he's brief, he's a grouch; if he hurries, he overlooks things; if he takes his time, he's lazy; if you get pinched, he had it in for you; if he's energetic, he's trying to make a record;
if he's deliberate, he's too slow to catch a cold; if you strike him, he's a coward; if he strikes back, he's a bully; if he outwits you, he's a sneak; if you see him first, he's a bonehead; if he makes a good catch, he's lucky; if he misses it, he's a sump; if he gets promoted, he's got a pull, and if he doesn't—oh, well, what's the use?

Pronounce Them

Of the non-technical words—in English, according to The Book of Knowledge, the longest is probably antidisestablishmentarianism with 28 letters. Another freak: anti-interdenominationalism with 32.
There is no limit to technical words. If you have a toothache, the pain will be relieved by di-methylaminophenylidimethylpyraz-olondithylmalonylurea with 54.
When an Indian chief died in Wisconsin in 1866, he bequeathed perhaps the longest word on record:
his name: Lepodotemachoselacoga-leokraniolepisandrimupotrimma-tosilphoparomellitokatakeelum-menokichepkossuphophattoperisteralktruonoptekphalokigklopeleolagoslralobaletraganopterugon. It has 177 letters, count 'em.

Long Memory

The late Rudyard Kipling was visiting the London Zoo when one of the new boarders was giving quite a lot of trouble. It was an elephant, and for days it had been utterly miserable, trumpeting and storming and refusing to be comforted.

"Why, the beggar's homesick," said Kipling, and he went up and spoke to it in a language it recognized—Hindu.
"Where, now, old fellow, there's no good in your storming," he said gently, "you're to stay here and you might as well make the best of it; take it easy, you will like your keepers when you get to know them, you know."

The familiar pet names soothed the great beast like magic, and when Kipling went away he left a happy and contented elephant behind.

WINDETT—KILLINS

A quiet wedding took place in the Parsonage of Grimsby Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon when the Rev. George McLean joined in marriage Jewell Marie, daughter of Mrs. Killins and the late Emery Killins, Smithville, and Mr. Quinton Holt Windett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Windett, Topeka, Ka.

The bride wore a smart afternoon dress of fuchsia and grey rayon with white hat and accessories and a double strand of pearls. Her corsage was of roses and cornflowers.

Mrs. Arnold Killins, wearing flowered jersey with white hat and accessories and rose corsage was her only attendant and Mr. Killins was groomsmen.

A delightful reception was held in the Oak Room of the Village Inn after which the bride and groom left for a trip through the Haliburton district. Mr. and Mrs. Windett will live in Topeka, Ka.

TAYLOR—BIDNALL

On July 20, in Trinity United Church, Grimsby, Rev. Francis McAvoy, of St. John's Presbyterian Church, united in marriage Constance Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bidnall, Grimsby, and Mr. Norman Taylor, son of Messrs. Herbert Taylor, Gordon Taylor and Edwin Bidnall, of Hamilton, and Mr. William Bidnall, Grimsby.

A reception for 38 guests was held at the Village Inn. After their wedding trip to points North, the couple will reside at Mount Hamilton.

Instinctive love and common-sense must be allied with modern medicine for better baby care, according to health officers at Ottawa. One authority on infant rearing states, "Nature provides parents with the loving solicitude essential to a child's well-being, but there are some phases of upbringing which require the guidance of experts. To ensure your child all the advantages of modern medical knowledge and the accumulated experience of Science, establish and maintain constant liaison with the family physician."

Enjoy Summer Fruits in Winter

Fruits and vegetables properly home canned now will help make the family meal more appetizing next winter. This home economist of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture is one of a staff that tests various methods of home canning. Booklets on Home Canning are available free from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

If an engine does not spark you cannot coax it to go. Engines have to be fueled and repaired. If the human engine does not function, we cannot carry on. People have to eat. Yet there are millions of people in the world today who are without necessary fuel for their bodies. There are people throughout the world who resemble delapidated machines — they look so gaunt, so sober, even weird. There are children whose expressions are pitiful, they do not smile or chuckle. It's a horrible thought to realize that 20 million children in Europe are developing anaemia, tuberculosis and other diseases.

True, more food is likely to become available at harvest time, but that's a long, long time to go hungry.

Meanwhile, the emergency must be met. Action is required — voluntary action in our own homes and shops. The individual response will pile up an impressive result. Food-stuffs will be automatically available if Canadians will share their daily food requirements necessary for existence. Bulk shipments will go forward with efficiency and speed — compared to individual bundles and shop parcels.

To the question, "What can you and I do to help?" the answer is: share and play fair.

1. Eat less of certain foods: wheat, meat, edible fats and oils, eggs and cheese. We have an adequate supply of perishables to substitute for these foods wanted so badly in Europe today.

2. Prevent waste. Plan shopping carefully so that there will be no mouldy crusts or bone-hard cheese. Provide proper storage facilities.

3. Plant a vegetable garden. We should all be proud to see what Canadian soil can produce.

SAVINGS

Small savings add up. For instance, one slice of bread saved each day by each Canadian household would total 117,000 loaves of bread.

1. Serve milk and fruit desserts in place of those made of flour.

2. Make single crust pies. Use fewer cakes.

3. Put vegetable toppings on meat pies. Forget about dumplings and Yorkshire puddings. Saute foods instead of dredging them with flour.

4. Freshen stale rolls and muffins by heating in top of double boiler or in a moistened paper bag in oven. Use what you have on hand before buying more.

5. Keep bread wrapped and in a ventilated box or covered crock. The refrigerator keeps bread fresh longer.

6. Use tested recipes, accurate measurements and careful cooking to avoid wasting precious ingredients. Don't cook for six when there are only four to feed. If you have leftovers make them interesting and be sure they are used up.

7. Send unused meat ration coupons to Ration Liaison Officers. Use moderate cooking temperature to prevent shrinkage, of meat. Cover cooked meats to keep pieces from drying out. A sharp carving knife means more servings.

8. Keep cheese wrapped tightly in a cloth moistened with vinegar and then rolled up in wax paper. Cover table pieces or wedges with wax paper pressed with a warm iron. Cheese crumbs keep fresh in an airtight jar transfer to smaller jar when quantity is reduced.

9. Keep eggs fresh by storing in cool dark place away from aromatic products. Store egg yolks in a glass of water and poach them for sandwich filling.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

Mrs. G. C. says: Use a potato to clean a grater which has been left with lemon or other dried food on it.

Mrs. C. T. says: Spinach and other greens need no other water for cooking than that which clings to the leaves. Keep pans covered so that the steam cooks vegetables; cook only until tender and drain immediately.

Mrs. S. J. says: Leftover French toast cubed makes a tasty topping for soup.

Mrs. S. M. says: Orange bread made with oranges which have been cut and seeded and put through the food chopper whole makes a moist, tasty loaf.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her c/o The Grimsby Independent. Send in your suggestion on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.

Blames Lack Of Support

MAJOR LANCASTER RESIGNS COUNTY CITIZENS COMMITTEE

St. Catharines City Council
In Disagreement Over Financing
And Future Plans—
Committee Has Done Fine
Job In Rehabilitating Veterans.

(St. Catharines Standard)

Arising out of the somewhat lengthy disagreement with city council in regard to financing and future plans, County Crown Attorney, E. H. Lancaster, K.C., has tendered his resignation as vice-chairman of the Lincoln County Citizens' Committee. Mr. Lancaster has been closely identified with veteran rehabilitation since the outbreak of war, serving for some years as chairman of the Citizens' Committee.

Mr. Lancaster tendered his resignation as vice-chairman to C. F. Woodward who succeeded Mr. Lancaster as chairman in the reorganization of the Citizens' Committee.

Mr. Lancaster's letter of resignation and Mr. Woodward's letter of acceptance follow:

Letter of Resignation

Dear Mr. Woodward:

The decision of the City Council on the question of financial support to be given to the Lincoln County Citizens' Committee hereafter as communicated to you by letter from City Clerk H. H. Smith under date of July 11, 1946, together with the resolution passed by the City Council on the subject and attached thereto, makes the fact abundantly clear.

1. That the operating Executive Committee of the Lincoln County Citizens' Committee no longer has the confidence of a majority of the present City Council.

2. That it is not the view of the majority of the present City Council that the work of the present Committee should be financed sufficiently beyond the end of 1946 to enable the work of the Committee to be carried on as heretofore and the present staff to be maintained. The views of the three members of the Executive Committee on the question of disposing of the services of the staff have been made quite clear to the City Council by previous individual letters.

3. That the view of the majority of the present City Council is that the Citizens' Committee as such should no longer function as a County-wide organization financed jointly by the City and the County.

4. That although the operating Executive Committee now consists of three members only with the addition of one member each nominated by the County and City Councils, that a majority of the City Council are of the opinion that a smaller Committee should be set up to act on behalf and for the benefit of City veterans only.

The matter of our budget requirements has been fully placed before the Finance Committee of the City Council by you on more than one occasion, and therefore their decision now made must be treated as having been made with full knowledge of all the facts.

The City Council are quite within their rights in arriving at any decision they deem proper having regard to all requirements of the veterans of the War just ended and their re-establishment in civil life.

It is of no importance at all whether the present committee continues in office or not. All three are serving in purely voluntary capacity at the request of the heads of the County Council and the City Council and at no cost to the ratepayers of either municipality.

It is further of no importance whether the City Council does or does not lend financial assistance to the present committee sufficient for their needs as the executive committee see them.

It is of very little importance whether a purely city committee as distinguished from a county-wide committee is sponsored and supported by the City Council.

What is however of paramount importance, in my view, is whether a citizens committee functions in this area so that the many veterans requiring re-establishment assistance and advice may get it impartially from some group of independent citizens who have the interests of the veterans in mind and who will look after those interests when necessary even though sometimes in opposition to the views and rulings of government and municipal bodies.

I therefore hereby tender my resignation as vice-chairman of the Lincoln County citizens committee, to become effective November 1, 1946. If it is thought necessary and desirable to fill the office of vice-chairman before that date, the effective date of my resignation may be advanced to meet your requirements.

May I say in a more personal way that it has been a pleasure to serve under you as General Chairman and to follow your leadership in giving consideration to the many veterans' problems that have confronted the committee in the past.

Yours faithfully,
E. H. LANCASTER.

Letter of Acceptance

Dear Major Lancaster:

It was with deep regret that I received your letter of July 17th tendering your resignation as vice-chairman of the Lincoln County Citizens' Committee, such resignation to become effective November 1st, 1946, or at such earlier date as may be thought necessary, should it be the desire of the committee to fill the office of vice-chairman before November 1st.

I concur in the views expressed in your letter as to the interpretation which may be placed upon the decision of the city council communicated to me by letter from City Clerk H. H. Smith, under date July 11th, 1946. Our work as a committee to assist with the rehabilitation of our returned servicemen and women was undertaken at the joint request of the City of St. Catharines and the County of Lincoln. The council of the County of Lincoln has made abundantly clear its desire to continue the support of this work. On the other hand, it seems equally clear that the majority of the members of the city council regard the work of the committee as of insufficient importance to justify its continuance in the present form beyond the end of January.

To those of us who have been intimately associated with the work of rehabilitation, it is perfectly apparent that the need for that work will continue for some time to come. This makes it of paramount importance, as you state in your letter, that there continue to be in this district a group of independent citizens who have at heart the interests of all veterans, and who are willing and able to look after those interests. I fully realize that this is the primary consideration which has motivated you in the course of action upon which you have decided. I also recognize that you are of the opinion that fair treatment of the staff of the committee should be regarded as of importance only second to the paramount matter of giving assistance to veterans. May I assure you that my own course of action will equally be predicated upon those two considerations.

I much appreciate the comments with which you close your letter. May I say how much I have enjoyed my association with you in this work, and how much I have valued the advice and assistance which you have always so willingly tendered to me.

Yours sincerely,
C. F. WOODWARD.

When It's July

I like to try
(When it's July)
To climb a haystack
To the sky
And catch a cloud
That puffs by.

When I am standing
On the ground
The haystack makes
So high a mound
It seems to touch
The sky's own blue
Where birds and airplanes
Trickle through.

But when I reach
The haystack's top
The blue falls backward
With a flop.
I think that some one
Pulls a lever
To keep the sky
As high as ever.

Uses For Sugar

Those who find the sugar in the cup scanty should not grumble; it is much more needed elsewhere.

Seventy of the industries we look to for the revival of commerce depend on it. Motor fuel consumes it; it has a place in synthetic rubber tires; in plastics; in industrial alcohol; in waterproofs; in soap.

This unfailing stimulant which has been called the 20th century's Aladdin's Lamp because it lights so many ways and supplies so many means, was first brought to England by the Crusaders, home from Palestine. It reached there through Persia from India. Spanish and Portuguese sailors distributed the sugar cane to West Africa and the Canaries.

For long sugar was a luxury weighed on the apothecary's scales. Now, supplemented by beet sugar, the world is weighing it by the million ton, and yet cries out for more.

Living beyond your means is a thing the average family can do without half trying.

 create havoc in the fruit industry and a possible loss of millions of dollars to fruit growers, shippers and manufacturers.
 Fruit growers who placed their orders for containers early last winter and accepted delivery of same are now sitting pretty while their neighbors who failed to take in and store their basket supply are facing a terrific loss.
 At the Metal Craft the shortage of steel is already being felt in those using bar steel and angle iron.
 Sheet metal departments are fairly well supplied for some time to come, but if the strike is prolonged for any length of time they also will be out of supplies. On the whole the Metal Craft will be able to keep up production for some time yet.
 Grimsby Stove and Foundry Co. have enough supplies on hand to keep the plant running for about two weeks and after that it will be a case of shut down entirely.
 Even if the strike was to end immediately there is no prospect that sufficient supplies will be received in time to avoid a shut-down in local industries, for by the time that the steel mills get back into full production and supplies are obtainable the plants would already have been closed.
 The situation on the whole is a bad one and particularly so in regard to the basket factories as the whole fruit industry depends upon them for containers.
PROCESSED FRUITS
 Let's. Each label on canned fruits and vegetables must be authorized by the Canning Division, Marketing Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. This is a protection to the consumer against misrepresentation. Each factory is visited regularly by inspectors to ensure that sanitary conditions prevail, and the inspectors have the power to close down a plant, or place under detention any product if conditions are not satisfactory.
 The Fruit and Vegetable Processing Industry and all connected government agencies are continually striving to improve Canada's processed foods, while bringing them within the reach of all income groups. Progress is being facilitated further by the fact that in recent years food investigation has become recognized as a truly scientific field rather than something that was left strictly to workers in the nation's kitchens. Scientifically trained men and women are now being attracted to the relatively new field called "Food Technology," and much advantage to all concerned will be the result.

 council presented her with a chest of silver yesterday afternoon. The general administration committee was empowered to recommend the appointment of a successor to Miss Killins. Approving the report of the administration committee presented by Reeve R. A. Saunders of Beamsville, council decided to leave the replacing of the late Superintendent of Buildings A. Zimmerman in abeyance for the present and authorized Clerk W. H. Millward to advertise for applications for the position.
 Reeve Charles Durham of North Grimsby presented the report of the road committee recommending the approval of the report of Road Superintendent Weir on road expenditure. The report of the board of management of the Industrial Home was presented by Reeve George Wiley of Louth. Charity and Welfare accounts were approved by council acting on the recommendation of Deputy-Reeve Harold S. Freure of Clinton.
 Approving the report of the education committee presented by Reeve W. L. Patterson of Niagara-on-the-Lake, council authorized the committee to deal with a request from the Grimsby Board of Education for reconsideration of its accounts for the 1945 tuition of county pupils. Upon the recommendation of the assessment committee under the chairmanship of Deputy-Reeve Ivan Buchanan of Grantham, council endorsed a resolution of the Waterloo County Council recommending changes in the Assessment Act. Council then adjourned until Tuesday, Aug. 20.

FLAVOURED FOODS
 Highly flavoured foods are bad for young children, according to Ottawa nutrition authorities in the Department of National Health and Welfare. They declare that infants and growing youngsters should not be fed on foods containing pepper, spices or vinegar in generous portions, nor on highly sweetened substances. Feeding a child such things as sausages, pickles, relishes and preserves, it is claimed, cultivates a capricious taste and turns a child away from the plain wholesome foods.

 At the opening of the conference with township inspectors Mr. Taylor outlined some of the proposals put forward and methods adopted by the provincial government to stamp out the menace to good farming and good health by weeds in Ontario. Various problems facing the county and the townships were discussed together with the advantages and disadvantages of spraying and cutting.
 Only major decision arrived at during the meeting was to the effect that the best way of combating weed problem was for each municipality to retain its inspector working in close conjunction and co-operation with the county weed inspector.
She Overcame The Servant Problem
 The servant shortage means little to pretty Lina Romay, who gets the biggest break of her up-and-coming acting career as Clark Gable's girl friend in "Adventure," showing at the Romy the first three days of next week.
 When she recently moved into a newly-purchased Brentwood home, Miss Romay not only had her father, mother and brother pitching in to help, but her maid enlisted the aid of three girl friends who came over to lend a hand during their time off.
 "Adventure," which is giving Lina her biggest boost toward stardom at M-G-M, marks Gable's return to the screen after three and a half years with the Army Air Corps. Greer Garson co-stars with Gable, and the stellar cast also features Joan Blondell and Thomas Mitchell.
Leg Paint Is In Demand Again
 Come spring sunshine—it's really here already, but more warmth is still needed—and bare legs will send the nylons into bureau drawers for safekeeping because, though the real thing is back, hose are still precious.
 Shop clerks, placing more bottles of liquid "stockings" on counters, say women are still queuing for hose, but they're already casting an eye on liquid creations which neither develop runs nor seriously weaken the pocketbook.
 Average price of leg paint is 40 cents to $1 a bottle—the latter being the most expensive liquid stocking on sale and about 50 cents cheaper than nylons or even the crepe and rayon "full-fashioneds".
 And if you're worrying about these lotions giving you the "brush-off"—just stop now. There's always the straight "tan" application that doesn't come off on contact. It looks the color of iodine in the bottle, but on your legs—well, your best friends will wonder how you liked the Bermuda winter.
 Born on the bathing beaches and nourished by the wartime stocking shortage, the paint-them-on and wash-them-off stockings have long since lost any tendency they may have had to embarrass the wearer.

What the nation needs is a working phrase which will make people work.

Road Reflectors Being Destroyed

Shooting holes in highway signs and symbols has, according to an official of the Department of Highways, become what appears to be a popular sport for some people.

"This is the first year we have run into anything like this," he said, in disclosing that some 200 signs, many of them being the reflector type, have been either badly damaged or completely ruined.

"On one road every sign for a two-mile stretch was used as a target and on another road, not far from Hamilton, every sign for a mile was damaged in this way," he asserted. Size of the bullet holes in the signs has led to the belief that either a revolver or rifle larger than .22 calibre is being used.

So handy

FIRE BUGS A DANGER
Canada's forests have one major enemy—bugs. There are insect bugs and fire bugs. The latter destroy millions of dollars of Canada's wealth.

You can tell the man who believes in his doctor. It's the fellow whose doctor tells him the things he wants to hear.

Ho, hum! It's small ammunition when the average man shoots off his mouth.

Grassie News

(Mrs. Clifford Walker, Staff Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hysert left Tuesday morning for the north on a fishing trip.

The Grassie and Tapleystown boys played their two baseball games. The scores were 7-6 and 12-9 both in favour of Grassie.

Mrs. Clyde Hysert is visiting up north for two weeks.

Mrs. Florence Eastgate, from Toronto, is visiting with Mrs. Clifford Walker for a few days.

Then And Now

Ample proof that Canada and Canadians are holding the line against rising prices is shown below in a price comparison list of various goods as they were in 1920 and as they were in June, 1946.

1920
Butter	$.85 lb.
Milk	$.18 qt.
Eggs	$1.00 doz.
Lard	$.42 lb.
Potatoes	$4.50 (90 lb. bag)
Sugar	$.25 lb.

1946
Butter	$.44 lb.
Milk	$.32 qt.
Eggs	$.44 doz.
Lard	$.21 lb.
Potatoes	$2.14 (75 lb. bag)
Sugar	$.08 lb.

During 1920 prices for farm equipment were fantastic. Returned men going on the land paid $500 to $700 for a team of horses, $80 to $100 for a common grade cow, with $2 apiece for hens. Hay was $25 a ton.

A returned soldiers' suit of civvies cost him $75 to $100, shoes sold at $12 to $18 a pair, sweaters $13.50 and razor blades were up to $1 a dozen.

Anthracite coal in November, 1920, was $20.35 a ton while Bituminous was $15.

Sir Frederick Grant Banting—A Tribute. By W. E. Robinson.

An Achievement—and an Inspiration

MAY 16TH, 1921, he stood in a small, dingy room in the Medical Building of the University of Toronto, a self-appointed seeker, untitled, unpaid, but sustained by a conviction that he was on the track of a great discovery.

His name was Frederick Grant Banting, Canadian Surgeon, and he had sold his office furniture and instruments to provide funds for his living costs.

He believed he had the key to the dread riddle of diabetes, a disease that had baffled medical science since the dawn of history. Medical opinion was skeptical, but physiologists and biochemists added their efforts and soon the rumour was whispered in hospitals and stricken homes "Banting of Toronto has discovered a treatment for diabetes".

From all over the continent, haggard, doomed diabetics came to Toronto, hoping against hope, their very lives at stake in Banting's grim race to perfect Insulin in time.

The rest is history, as is the fact that Sir Frederick Grant Banting died as he had lived—in the service of his country and of humanity. Today, 25 years after his discovery, his work has saved uncounted thousands of lives, and the story of his achievements has become a glowing example and an inspiration to all Canadians . . . giving us an assurance of an ever-increasing measure of health and prosperity in the Canada Unlimited of the future.
